The Learning Ecosystem

What is it?

A learning ecosystem is essentially a collection of L&D tools, processes, content, connections, relationships, etc. It's made to your specifications and integrates whatever you need.

Should I have one?

“ I want to know if and when there’s a correlation between the training and utilization increase and increase in sales.”

“ How do we get set up to measure?”

“ Can we integrate X and Y systems?”

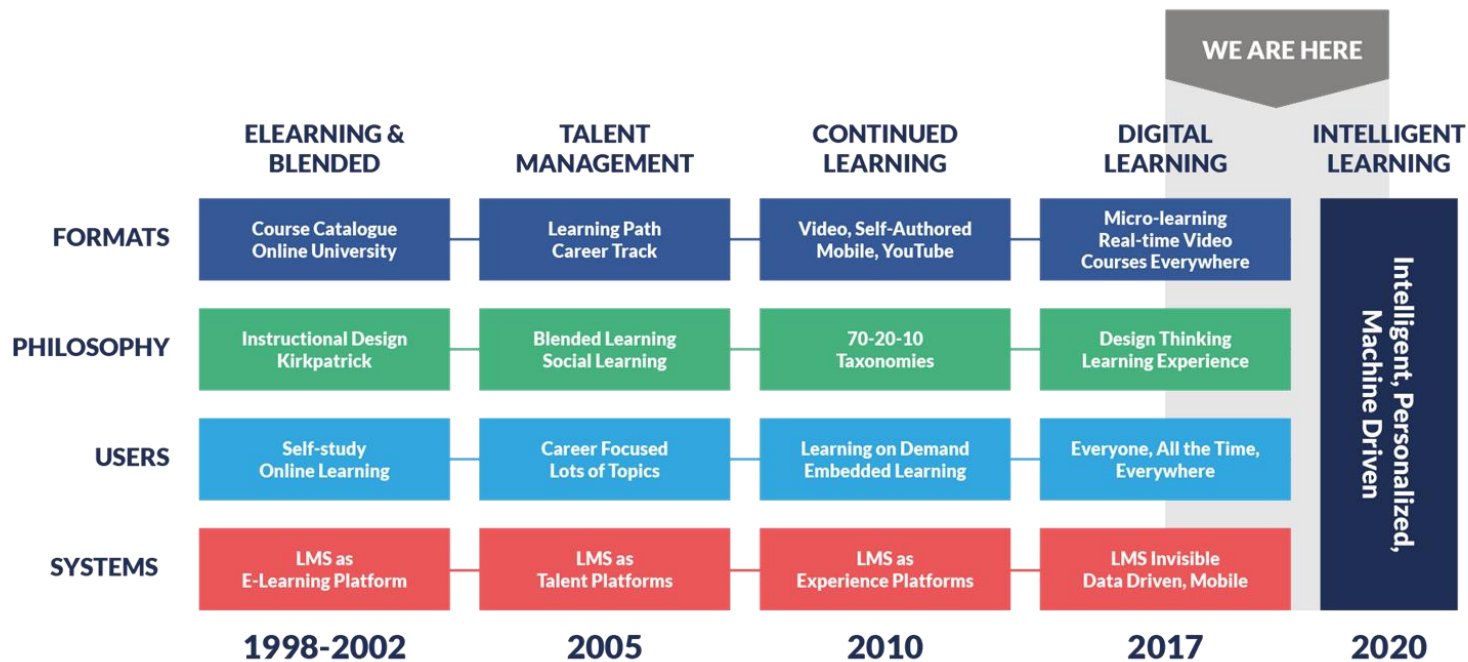

“ How can we add more social?”

“ Let’s gamify the whole program! We need badges and rating systems!”

Measurement

Measure

Measurement means justifiable

Measurement means accountable

Measurement means
performance and improvement

Measurement: Chain of evidence

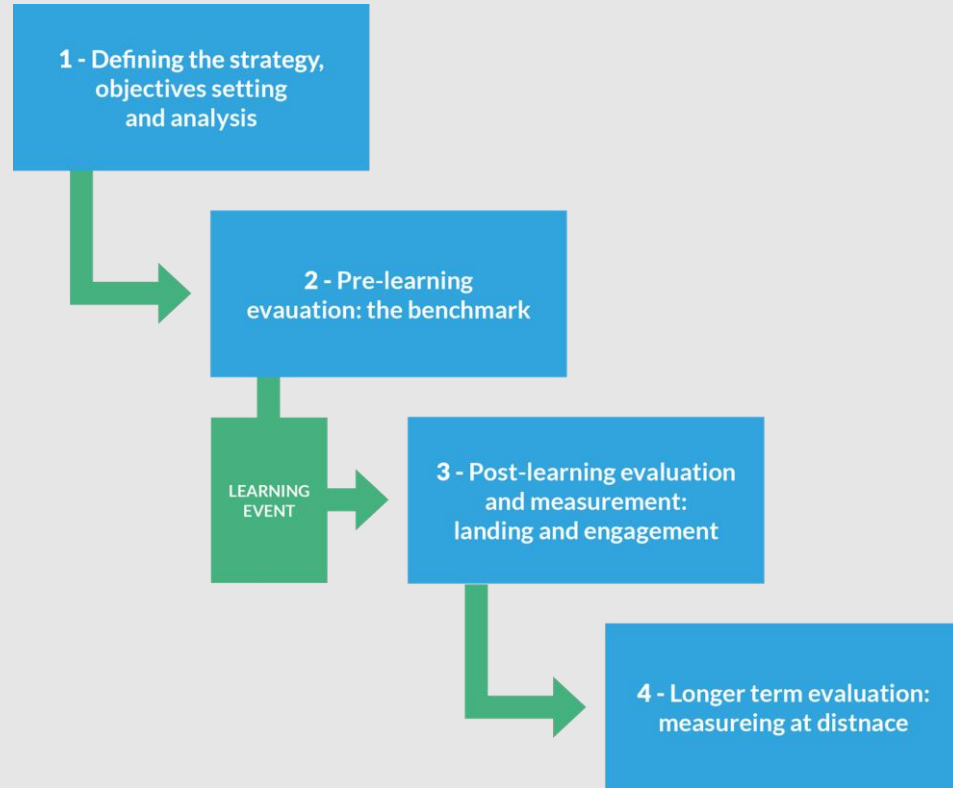

Measurement

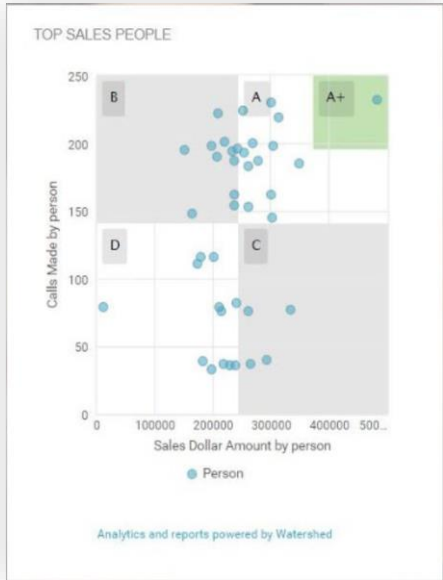

History of L&D Measurement:

- Activity
- Skills and Mastery tests, etc.
- Has learning landed?
- Have learner behaviours changed?
- ROI & Business impact

To measure impact:

- Organizations must integrate and correlate operational data with learning data.

Considerations

Simplify the starting point

Customizations

Many times, integrations involve customization.

- Be 100% sure of the need for customization
- Try hold off until most everything is in place
- Customizations often do not work with upgrades/updates
- Don't get stuck!

System Integration

Key Practices

1. Identify current and future system integration requirements.
2. Define what needs to be shared between systems (now and future).
3. Define how often shared items need to be updated.
4. Define the value of each connection (business goal for each connection).
5. Prioritize each connection and begin defining requirements (APIs, scripts, middle-data-warehouses).
6. Map table to table (where is the data held in each system), theory first.
7. Understand your vendor's experience integrating with each of these elements.
